SLAYS WOMAN SHE SAYS STOLE HER HUSBAND

Chicago Wife Drags Victim From Street Car by Hair, Screaming Vengeance, Shoots Before Crowd Can Interfere

SON HELD WITH MOTHER IN CONNECTION WITH MURDER

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Carrying out a threat alleged made nine months ago, Minnie Bernatowicz, 28, today shot and killed Mrs Annie Anderaski who she claimed had stolen her husband. She waited at a corner for her victim and dragged her from a street car holding by the hair while she screamed her hatred. Mrs. Bernatowicz then shot before spectators were able to interfere. A son of the slayer, alleged to have begged his mother to let him do the killing, was arrested with his mother. The slayer's mother said Bernatowicz had threatened to kill his wife if she interfered with his friendship for Mrs. Anderaski.

UNION SERVICES START TOMORROW

Dr. Douglas Will Preach At M. E. Church, South—Meetings Together Next 2 Months

Beginning with the service at the M. E Church, South, at 7:30 tomorrow evening conducted by Dr. R. E. Douglas, union services will be held at four of the city churches during the months of July and August. Churches which have united in the union service campaign are the Presbyterian, Christian, First Methodist and the M. E. Church, South.

As the attendance on Sunday evenings is smaller during the summer months on account of the hot weather, the pastors of the four churches decided to adopt the union service plan in order to insure a greater attendance. Plans for the campaign and a schedule of services was adopted at the meeting of the Middlesboro Ministerial Association June 25

Not only the pastors but members of the congregations are pleased with the prospects for union services in which the churches may join forces for their mutual welfare and for the cause of Christianity in Middlesboro.

ALABAMA MAY ABOLISH CONVICT LEASING SYSTEM

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 7.—One of the results of the recent investigation of alleged outrages in Florida prison camps will be to make the subject of the leasing of Alabama convicts one of the most complex matters to come before the Alabama legislature when that body convenes tomorrow, for its summer session, according to the opinion expressed by members in advance of the meeting.

Inspired by the investigations and their results in Florida, citizens of Alabama started an inquiry into conditions in this state and several groups now are demanding that the present lease system be abolished, despite the fact that the legislature at its January session extended the leasing system until December, 1928.

The league of women voters of Alabama, who also have the aid of various legislators and many private citizens have declared their intention of endeavoring to have the legislature repeal the extension measure at the coming session. Alleged insanitary conditions, inhuman treatment, negligence of moral supervision and bad conditions in general are charged by those opposing the continuation of the leasing system.

BALL AND KENNEDY WAIVE PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION

Preliminary hearing before the police judge was waived by Alva Ball and Herbert Kennedy this morning and their case will be investigated by the grand jury. They are held under $500 appearance bonds. Both are charged with shooting without wounding. They are said to have been implicated in a shooting affray which occured at the home of Will Hoag on Dalewood road Sunday night.

Longsworth Baby Dead

Jeanette Longsworth, age one month daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Longsworth, died at their home on Exeter avenue Thursday night. Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday night. Interment was at the Yellow Creek cemetery.

HATE MAKING FOR ANOTHER WAR

Urges World Court Adoption To Put Down Hatred In The World

By Associated Press

DES MOINES, July 7.—Seeds of hate being sown throughout the world are causing it to drift into another world war, according to Frederick J. Libby, of Washington, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, in addressing the International Christian Endeavor Convention here today.

"The world drifts toward a war of gas and airplanes and neither the government nor the churches nor organized women have taken one effective step to prevent it," said Mr. Libby. "The seeds of hate are the seeds of war and they are being sown again in the French seizure of the Ruhr. No fondness that we may feel for France can blind our eyes to the awful consequences of the policy she is pursuing. Many of you present at the convention will be drafted to be killed if the present drift toward war cannot speedily be stopped and law be established in the place of war as the accepted method of settling international differences.

"And it will be a war of gas and airplanes. Recently in Dayton, the home of the Wright brothers, a young man asked me if I knew about their little 'Bug.' I said 'No,' and he went on to tell me that it is an airplane which they have sent from Dayton to Xenia, turned around there and brought back safely to Dayton with no one in it, gabbing it by wires. 'And it might have been spraying gas all the way to Xenia and back?' I asked. He nodded and said 'Yes'. Airplanes, poison gas and hate make a trio of destructiveness so deadly that no one of us can contemplate the present drift toward war without horror.

"Our military men say: 'Prepare for war'. I am frank to admit that they are justified in their demand if we are not going to work more effectively for peace in the next four years than we have up to now. It is their task to make the nation ready for war when war comes. They know that if a great war splits Europe, whatever politicians may say, America cannot refrain aloof. The world is too small for us to be unaffected by anything that affects Europe."

Mr. Libby urged the adoption of the world court as one step toward the prevention of war and also the reduction of armaments and education for peace

CLOSE PINEVILLE-MIDDLESBORO ROAD

Laying of Asphalt Demands Keeping Traffic Off In Day Time Next Two Weeks.

Traffic between Middlesboro and Pineville will be cramped during the next two weeks, according to announcement made here today by Pineville road engineers. They have been working on the road to Wasiota for some time and will start laying asphalt Monday if the weather permits. It will take about ten days' good weather to finish this work and during this time the road will be closed from 8 to 12 a. m., and from 1 to 4 p. m., each day.

Cards will be put up along the road announcing this and the engineers are undertaking to advertise the fact as generally as possible. When the road is finished this will be one of the finest stretches in this section.

JUNE TEMPERATURE THIS YEAR BARELY ABOVE NORMAL

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 7.—While people generally in the Cincinnati territory believed June, 1923 to be a month of excessive heat, the average temperature for the month was barely above normal according to the Weather Bureau's report. The official maximum record at the Weather Bureau was 95 degrees and down town the temperature was 97.2 degrees on the same day, yet the average for the month was 72. The lowest temperature was 47 degrees on June 30, and this was the lowest ever recorded during the last week in June since the bureau was established in Cincinnati more than 50 years ago.

The extremely warm weather prevailed from June 18 to 24 inclusive and there was decidedly lower temperature the last two days of the month.

In precipiation there was a moderate deficiency last month as compared with the normal. The total was 3.48 inches or .80 of an inch below normal The highest wind velocity was 32 miles on June 15.

Local Weather Report For June

Maximum for month, 93 on June 21 minimum, 47, June 30; precipitation for month, 4.01 inches, greatest in one day, 1.75 on June 11; rain on 10 days; there were 20 clear, 9 partly clear, and one all cloudy day. Up to date this year, we have had 32 inches of rain, which is about 7 inches over the average, for six months.

B. H. Perkins, Local Observer.

Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, July 7 - Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; somewhat warmer in east portion.

Huge K. U. Ice Plant, Best Equipped In State, Begins Operations Today; Ice Will Be Made Early Next Week

The new $150,000 ice plant of the Kentucky Utilities company is now running. Ice now in the process of freezing will be ready for delivery by the early part of next week, according to W. C. Stair.

Work at the plant is practically completed and all of the machinery is in operation. A floor of red concrete has been made; the walls will be finished in white on the interior; the tanks and pumps will be finished in steel gray and the filtration plant will be painted white. Everything possible will be done to make the plant entirely clean and sanitary at all times. The floor over the ice freezing tank will be scrubbed daily.

The plant is entirely electrically driven, each piece of machinery being run by an individual motor. These have a combined horse power of 312 The switch board controlling the plant has been installed though that for the city has not yet been moved to the new building.

The system used at the new plant is known as the high pressure raw water system, the latest and most efficient method of manufacturing ice The water from which the ice is made is filtered through a sandbed and chemically treated so that it will be absolutely pure. No ammonia enters the water from which the ice is made.

The method by which the water is frozen into ice is simple the underlying principle being the refrigerating qualities of high pressure ammonia when reduced to a low pressure.

The ammonia in a gaseous state, is under 180 pounds of pressure. Released into pipes circulating through the brine surrounding the cans, it absorbs the latent heat therein contained, reducing the temperature to 16 degrees. The brine which is kept in motion by four propellers maintains an even temperature in the tank.

Shortly before it reaches the freezing point, the water in the metal ice cans is agitated by a small jet of air blown into it at the top. Kept in a state of motion while it is freezing, the ice is made clear instead of white.

After the ammonia has circulated through the pipes surrounding the cans it is withdrawn and returned to the cooling tower where it is liquified. Thus, it may be used over and over again by this process of reclamation.

There are 816 cans in which the ice is frozen. It requires forty-eight hours for the water in the cans to become ice. Four hundred and sixteen of the cans, or half the total number, are emptied of their ice each day, making a total production of more than fifty tons daily.

The cans containing the ice are taken from the brine tank by an electric crane They are immersed in warm water which loosens the ice after which the 300 pound block of ice is sent to the cold storage room. The freezing temperature of this room, caused by overhead ammonia pipes, is maintained by the thick, cork padded walls. The ice passes through a scoring machine which makes weighing it unnecessary, before it is loaded into the wagons for delivery.

The new ice plant is an establishment of which Middlesboro is justly proud. It is one of the most modern and sanitary plants in the entire country Not only will it supply Middlesboro daily with the best quality of ice, but will also furnish it to nearby towns.

Only four men are required to operate the plant, the work being almost entirely done by machinery. The delivery force will be larger than that kept at the plant.

U. S. DESIGNATES MINIMUM NAVY

Decision Gives Force to Uncertain Status of Five-Power Navy Part Enforcement

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 7—The United States will maintain at full efficiency during the next fiscal year a minimum naval force at sea of eighteen first line battle ships, fourteen cruisers and eighty-four submarines, it was announced today. The decision is viewed as significant in view of the uncertain status of the five power navy pact. French ratification is still delayed.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

More Money Being Sent By Money Orders Than Received—Small Foreign Business

Postal Receipts for the first six months of the year show a net increase of $296.60 over the first half of 1922 according to R. P. Hutcheson assistant postmaster. An increase of $882.09 was made in June of this year over the same month of 1922. The total receipts for this year are $15,396.17.

Figures show that more than twice as much money is sent away from Middlesboro by domestic money orders as is received from the same sources A total of $66,038.58 was sent in this manner during the past six months, while only $29,347.29 was received.

The amount sent to foreign countries in this manner is small, only $91.62 having been sent this year. Thirty dollars was received from this source. Our foreign money order business has been greatly curtailed by reason of the fact that the United States does not allow such transactions between countries which were its enemies during the world war.

FRIENDS START McADOO BOOM FOR PRESIDENT

Discuss Relative Strength Various Democratic Candidates—Former Governor Cox Considered Most Formidable Opponent

CONFIDENT THAT McADOO WILLING TO ENTER RING

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July. 7—Detailed plans for launching a William G. McAdoo for President boom were worked out at a dinner of a dozen of his intimate friends here, the New York Evening Post said today. Although Mr. McAdoo has not formally announced his candidacy supporters declared they were confident that he would be in the ring.

Diners discussed the relative strength of former governor Cox of Ohio, governor Smith of New York, senator Underwood, former ambassador John W. Davis and Henry Ford, the Post says. The opinion was reached that McAdoo could enter the convention with four hundred delegates and many others would switch to him. Cox is believed to be his most dangerous opponent. It is reported Ohio, Kentucky and at least two other midwestern states are for him.

Turkish Torpedo Boat Said To Have Sunk Greek Vessel, Many Lives Lost

By Associated Press.

SOFIA, July 7.—Verification of a report from Constantinople that fighting between Greek and Turkish troops at Karaburun Cape on Asiatic side of Sea of Marmora is awaited here today. Cause of the conflict was an attempt by Greeks to land a regiment on the cape. A Turkish torpedo boat is reported to have sunk a Greek vessel with loss of many lives. The Turkish frontier has been closed several days.

OFFICER HERE IN INTEREST CITIZENS' TRAINING CAMP

Lieut. R. E. Round is in Middlesboro today in the interest of the Citizens Military Training Camp to be held this year from July 27 to August 25 at Camp Knox. There is no established quota for Middlesboro, he says, and any one who qualifies may be admitted.

The purpose of the camp is to bring together young men of high type from all sections of the country on a basis of equality and under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life; to stimulate and promote citizenship, patriotism and Americanism and through expert physical direction, athletic coaching and military training to benefit the young men individually and bring them to realize their obligation to their country.

Age limits to the C. M. T. C. are 17 to 24 Applicants are not required to obligate themselves for future service. Lieut. Round will be at the Cumberland hotel for two or three days to give more detailed information to those desiring it.

MRS. WOODWARD TO START BEAUTY SHOP IN MANRING

Preparations to open a beauty parlor on the western side of the Manring theatre building are being made by Mrs. Ben B Woodward. It will be known as the De Luxe Beauty Shoppe and will probably be ready for business by the early part of next week. The opening has been delayed by delay in receiving equipment. A competent assistant will be employed after the business is started, according to Mrs. Woodward. All lines of beauty culture for ladies will be done.

CITY COLLECTOR NOW PREPARING TAX BOOKS

Work of preparing the city tax books for this year is now being done by Frank Kearns, city collector. The task is a laborious one. Every lot in the entire city, the name of the owner and the assessed valuation must be listed in the books.

The books will probably not be open so that payments may be made before September. Mr. Kearns stated. Taxpayers will then have about six weeks to make payments before the penalty is imposed.

A THOUGHT

Honor thy father and mother, which is the first commandment with promise, that it may be well with thee and thou mayest live long on the earth.—Eph. 6:2, 3

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Industry and trade are heard at work. The hesitancy in evidence for some time past is being shaken off and refreshed by the short breathing spell businesslike progress is being made. This progress is being made at that season of the year when a slackening tendency is usually in evidence.

There has been an evident determination on the part of business to wait for the earmarks of unhealthy expansion and a preference for a normal level of activity.

Business is now moving forward and carefully watching the road ahead.

One of the outstanding and encouraging features of this forward movement is the pressing demand for iron and steel. Even at the present high rate of production the output is not sufficient to supply the demand. Orders from the railroads at this time are unusually heavy and have reached that point where producers are requesting that orders be postponed wherever possible. Export demand especially from Australia, Japan and Argentina is reported to be showing a marked improvement.

This foreign demand is worthy of more than passing notice. There are signs that European conditions are healing. While the United States through self reliance has made a remarkable comeback the fact that foreign prosperity makes for increased home prosperity still holds true. The heavy oversubscription to America's portion of the Austrian loan is an evidence of faith that through Europe may still have a long way to travel before she can be rated as normal, changes for the better are on the way.

WEEDS FLOURISH ON VACANT LOTS HERE

Despite the fact that there is a city ordinance requiring property owners to keep their premises free from weeds and other obnoxious vegetation, rank weeds continue to flourish in the heart of town.

The canal banks have been entirely taken over by these undesirable growths but weeds are not by any means confined to these places. Vacant lots in plain view of the city hall abound with tall weeds. So far as is known no steps have been taken by the executive department of the city to compel property owners to cut the weeds.

It is one of the many conditions of negligence that prevents Middlesboro from being in all respects from its best point of view. Residents who take great pride in having beautiful lawns in front of their doors allow their vacant lots to become miniature jungles of weeds, vines and other growths.

Besides being entirely displeasing to the eye the weeds are a public nuisance in that the perpetual dampness and shade they afford are conducive to the breeding of mosquitos.

Any property owner in Middlesboro who allows rank weeds to grow on his property is subject to a fine. The police department should give due notice to such offenders, though this is not required by law, and their refusal to comply with the city ordinance should be punished by the specified fine.

Our weeds are attracting attention not only by residents but from visitors to Middlesboro. It behooves each per

SURPRISE, FLIRT, FLATTER, TO HOLD YOUR HUBSAND

NEW YORK, July 5.—"If a woman would have her relations with her husband harmonious and pleasing, she must give him free rein." Elinor Glynn, famous romantic author, maintains. "Don't begin making boundaries that serve only as an objective for him to stray from. Don't mark out lines of conduct for him to adhere to that irritate him until he loathes them."

And don't make boundaries for yourself, she cautions.

"By that I mean don't do things or fail to do them, purely from habit or because you are too lazy to think out your own course," she explained. "Surprise yourself as well as your husband. You'll both enjoy the sensation.

"Flirt with your husband. Flatter him often, even if you have to handle the truth lightly to do so. Be a magnet, always, the same ingratiating magnet that attracted him when you were engaged. Make yourself his desire, not his duty!"

This, she admits, is not always easy, but it si possible of you make the effort.

"And because you must always represent attraction and lure to your husband, don't take chances by letting him see you at times when you are not neat and as pretty as you can be.

"There isn't a woman born who doesn't feel like slumbering, physically and mentally at times. But try to keep up before your husband. It is much more important to keep up for him than for the world at large, composed of individuals who don't care in the least how you look or feel.

"And remember this," she concludes, men do love to be comfortable. And the old reply, 'Feed the Brute' still holds good as one correct answer to woman's problem—how shall I hold my husband?"

ELINOR GLYN

TWELVE BEST MOVIES!

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is not customary for the professional reviewer of pictures to pause at the middle of the year and issue a list of "the ten best," or "the twelve best" pictures of the first half of the year.

Pausing thus, I submit the following list:

The Covered Wagon."
.."By Lantern Light."
"A Pleasant Journey."
"Othello."
"Safety Last."
"The Christian."
"Grumpy."
"Trailing Wild African Animals."
"Enemies of Women."
"The Famous Mrs. Fair."
"Alice Adams."
"Penrod and Sam."

That is a very unorthodox list. "By Lantern Light" is only one reel long. Such pictures are usually considered too short for consideration in a list of the best, yet I hold that a picture is a picture, regardless of its length. I doubt if any picture ever made has achieved the high artistic level of "By Lantern Light," unless it be "Jenkins and the Mutt" or "Moonblind," companion films in the Bruce series.

If it is maintained that "By Lantern Light" is too short, then I argue that "Enemies of Women," which cost a million, is too long. And so is D. W. Griffith's very excellent "The White Rose."

"The Covered Wagon" is also a very long picture, but it deserves its length; it is a sermon. To me it seems the biggest picture in concept and treatment ever made. It is an inspiring document on Americanization. It should be presented for every generation of America that is to follow.

"A Day's Journey" is only two reels long. I place it on my list because it is the most entertaining comedy I ever saw. It is one of those hilarious comics played by Hal Roach's troop of kids.

Each of the pictures in the list is there because it fulfilled the true function of motion pictures better than other pictures. That function is to tell a story, to create entertainment in the manner which is distinctively of the medium employed.

Lige Conley in his demon racer in "Backfire" and Ruth Hiatt the heroine

Other pictures of the first half of the year which seemed above the average were: "Poor Men's Wives," "Bavu," "Prodigal Daughters," "Nobody's Money," "Canyon of the Fools," "The No'er Do Well," "This Way Out," "While the Pot Boils," "Daddy," "Within the Law," "Peg O' the Movies" and "Shadows."

This list is called up from memory. Better films may have been overlooked. Several exceptionally poor pictures are also recalled. They are "Daughters of the Rich," "Soul of the Beast" and "The Ragged Edge". However, Oscar, the elephant in "Soul of the Beast," contributed one of the best bits of acting of the season."

Many who offered suggestions to the Author's League for the improvement of the movies advocated the elimination of slopstick comedy from the films. They took the wrong attitude. Slapstick stuff has a definite place on the screen, just as it has on the stage.

"Backfire," a new Jack White comic starring Lige Conley, is made up entirely of slapstick and is an exceedingly funny and entertaining comic.

Havelock Ellis in his new book, "The Dance of Life," holds that anything which is an expression of self, of life, is art. Measured with that standard, "Blackfire," with all its slapstick antics, must be considered a great work of art, even by our highbrows.

In short, it is the story of a plebeian flivver rejuvenated with new valves, winning a road race against aristocratic motors. It is the expression of self-sufficiency that rests in the bosoms of all flivver owners.

Had "Blackfire" been released before July 1, it would have been included in the list of the 12 best pictures of the six-month's period.

ELECTRICAL APPARATUS LIGHTENS HOUSEWORK OF AMERICAN WOMEN

Housework of American women now is lightened by about 21 million pieces of electrical apparatus, not counting lights. The list of these electric labor-saving devices in the home will interest many.

3,850,000 Vacuum cleaners, 3,500,000 electric fans, 2,915,000 electric clothes washers, 1,200,000 heaters and radiators, 1,000,000 toasters, 500,000 coffee percolators, 437,000 sewing machines, 116,000 ironing machines, 100,000 dish washers.

These are the devices that lead. Others, of course. The wonder is that there aren't more in use. There will be, in time.

In 1880 the population of the United States was less than half what it is now. In those days, less than a million dollars was invested in the electric light and power industry.

Today the invesment is around five billion dollars, or aouht 5,000 times as much.

In our whole country are 22,500,000 homes, and 8,500,000 of them are wired for electrical service. In addition, the power lines are ready to extend the service to 5,000,000 more homes as soon as they want the power.

The electric light power industry is growing so rapidly that it requires a billion dollars of new capital each year.

Electricity will be the main fuel and power of the future. We have entered the Electrical Age. One of its greatest developments will be the conversion of coal into electric power at the mines, the power to be sent out over the country by high tension wires or by radio. Among other things, this will save tremendous sums of money and time, by eliminating long hauls of coal from mine to consumer.

Chained Lightning is growing up into your best slave.

DEDICATION OF OLD KENTUCKY HOME WEDNESDA

Pittsburgh Delegation Presents Portrait of Stephen C Foster to Ringgold Homestead—Eulogy of Composer Given

GLOWING ADDRESS OF PRESENTATION GIVEN

By Associated Press

PARDSTOWN Ky July 7 The [illegible] and wife Jennie Mc Old Kentucky Home to live in the hearts of people everywhere Humphrey presented to the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and yesterday at the old Kentucky home celebration

Mr Humphrey handed a check for from Foster's native city came to present a portrait of the studio as well as to Kentucky at the celebration in which the State took part Fourth Hill the house where Foster wrote My Old Kentucky Home Mr Humphreys address in presenting the portrait to Governor Edwin P Morrow chairman of the celebration follows

At the head of the Ohio where the Allegheny and the Monongahela meet lies Pittsburgh Point Fort Du From points far one hundred and thirty two years men and materials have gone out carrying strength and power pushing progress to the nation and to the world completing that vast alluvial river whose waters sweep the northern shore of the notched mountain of Kentucky and the borders of four sister states current to the homelike stream

This great industrial city has generously contributed men and material God but education and high ideals as well not only motive power and machinery but melody the measure that stirs in those simple and understanding sentiments of love and home that touch every heart

Out of this wonderful workshop of the world at this great transportation gateway to the West Foster was born lived his brief life and died but not before he had given to his fellowmen those songs of common humanity hopes and experience the words and music of which will never die

It is but fitting therefore that the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce with a membership of six thousand representative business men should share with you on this Patriotic Day in celebrating and commemorating the genius of Stephen Foster that Master dramatist Poet Musician who touched the strings of sympathy and understanding in melodious but matchless all people kin

And so on behalf of the land that gave him birth and in the name of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh his native city have the sacred privilege of presenting to the land that gave him inspiration and us a enduring memorial in this Shrine you have set up here in gratitude and appreciation a replica of the splendid likeness of Stephen Collins Foster that now occupies a honored place among the truly great in the Art Gallery of the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh

On the brow of a hill under the green old of the Keystone state Foster sleeps He rests within the confines of sound Native City where up from the valley Today comes drumly the sound of iron in the making the roar of mills and furnaces the clanking of [illegible] upon the rivers the signal bells of transportation moving to and fro all pointing a world one mighty industrial pathos where Foster sleeps In the sentiments and simple harmony of Foster song My Old Kentucky Home written in 1852 continues to live in the hearts of the people and grow in beauty and power with ever passing year

May this time be far in the future when lips fail to give to his music eyes dim and the deathless sentiment of sympathetic hearts to respond to its influence and men who owe him so much continue to honor and preserve in pride and gratitude the memory of this Great Master of Melody and Song

Peace Prize k For Best Plan?

SUGGEST TWO CHANGES IN TAX LAWS OF STATE

Edward W [illegible] that maxim still or who startled the world by this offer of a big money prize for a workable plan to achieve and preserve the peace of the world is at his summer home in Camden Me—a Tory prince and a Sphinx hiding from interruption of clamor

Miss Esther Everett Lape selected by Bok as head of a committee of ten famous people to administer the award is his mouthpiece

Some seem to fear said Miss Lape that the $100 000 award is an attempt to influence the public mind in favor of the League of Nations or the World Court Emphatically it is not

Our interest is to get a plan acceptable to all which will enable the United States to cooperate with other nations in bringing that which every right minded person certainly must hope for—a real peace

Who is Miss Lape? Why did Bok pick her to head a committee of such noted persons as Mrs Gifford Pinchot Mrs Franklin D Roosevelt Mrs Frank A Vanderlip Mrs Oliver Red former Ambassador John W Davis former Governor Miller of New York former Secretary of War Henry L Stimson Judge Learned Hand Melville E Stone newspaper man and William B Johnston labor leader

Immigration says Miss Lape was our common interest

As I worked on this subject—next to the heart of Poland in immigration boy himself she won the editors to speed with her series The Immigrant in America She first met Bok at a conference on immigration

A graduate of Bryn Mawr and Wellesley college Miss Lape went to Lincoln Neb to teach the boys at the state university how to write their oil reports Returning here she studied immigration with this result

I became convinced that all social welfare issues become political in the last use of the word—that the conditions can best be remedied by proper legislation

So she began to take an interest in things political leading her support to movements which strove for better politics She directed a home campaign in New York for the late John Purroy

FORMER JUSTICE B

Miss Esther Everett Lape head of committee handling $100 000 Peace Award offered by Edward W Bok (over right) Other women on committee (from top to bottom) Mrs L hut A Vanderlip Mrs Franklin D Roosevelt Mrs Gifford Pinchot and Mrs Oliver Red

Much when he retired to declare on an independent ticket after he was defeated in his party primaries She helped Mrs Pinchot direct the campaign among women in the election of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania

But Miss Lape is modest Some [illegible] est thing she insists she is not chairman of the committee—that honor belongs to Member in charge

As for the $100 000 award—she says $50 000 will be paid when the plan is accepted by the committee of judges which will be selected before September 1 the other $50 000 will be paid when the plan has been proved practicable

Just how this will be determined Miss Lape has not been decided It may be through ratification by the Senate by popular approval or some other way That is a detail which the committee will take up later

In the meantime many individual and social groups are already preparing plans for giving of the award

FELT TIRED, SO TIRED

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping.

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine.

"I suffered with my back, a very weak feeling in my limbs.

"I felt hardly able to drag, just tired—so tired all the time.

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

COAL PRODUCTION GAINS SLIGHTLY

Consumers Bituminous Stock Reported Low—Anthracite Output Heavy

Within the past year stocks of bituminous coal have been very materially reduced Buyers however are not putting any particular attention to this fact but under the influence of the downward trend of prices they are permitting their stocks to run low

Soft coal production is showing a slight upward tendency The Geological Survey's preliminary estimate of coal produced in the week ending June 9 including coal coked lignite and mine fuel indicates a total of 8 10 708 000 net tons an increase of 617 000 000 tons over the revised estimate for the week preceding

Total production for the month of May also shows an increase over the previous month Estimates based on railroad shipments place the total output for that month including lignite and coal coked at the mines at 46 076 000 net tons a gain of 8 2 per cent over the April production and a decrease of 16 per cent as compared with the March output

The revised estimate of anthracite production in May based upon final data on shipments places the total at 8 57 000 net tons including mine fuel local sales and the product of washeries and dredges Output during May has only twice exceeded this figure which is 6 per cent above the average for the eight years 1914 to 1921

The total production of anthracite in the first five months of the present calendar year was 32 504 000 net tons which is the maximum production recorded for a like period and is 15 per cent more than the average for the eight years preceding 1922

Production of beehive coke in the week ending June 9 was restored to the pre Memorial Day rate On the basis of the number of cars loaded on the principal coke carrying railroads the total output is estimated at 416 000 net tons The recovery is shown principally in the figures for the Pennsylvania Ohio and West Virginia districts Total production for May also shows an increase the output for that month being 1 820 000 net tons as compared with 1 776 000 tons in April

The output of by products coke in May was 3 328 000 net tons an increase of 122 000 tons or 3 8 per cent over the April output This gain was partly due to the greater number of working days and partly to an increase in the average daily rate of production The quantity of coke produced was 89.2 per cent of the capacity of plants in existence The total count of plants (99 two formerly reported separately having been combined) of these 69 were active and 30 idle—Business Review

DESCRIBES KENTENVA CLASS SOCIAL THURSDAY NIGHT

The following report of the Kentenva Class entertainment Thursday night has been contributed by a guest:

The regular monthly meeting of the Kentenva Bible Class was held at Kentenva Hall Thursday evening. Business was dispensed with on the occasion and the social side was featured as the Woman's Bible Class attended as guests of honor. M. Cecil, president of the Kentenva Class presided over the meeting. G. J. Humfleet, teacher of the class, gave the address of welcome, eulogizing the Women's Class for its splendid work, helpful influence and cooperation with the men's class.

Mrs. M. E. Brown responded in a charming manner, in turn complimenting the men on their splendid growth and her confidence in their ability for still greater things.

Special guests on the occasion were: Prof. Frazier of Lee County Institute, Ewing, who gave a short talk and the Rev. J. W. Stewart, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, of Ewing, who gave the principal address. He is a speaker of ability and held his audience well.

The orchestra of Kentenva Class furnished music during the evening. The hit of the evening was J. O. Bellan's "Your Daddy Did the Same Thing Fifty Years Ago," in which such honest and wholesome confession was made as to bring a burst of applause from every man and "ain't it the truth" from the feminine side of the house. Other vocal numbers were by Miss Lola Smith, Deral Biggerstaff and Master Joe Biggerstaff. Refreshments of brick ice cream and white cake were served at the conclusion of the program.

Ladies Aid Sale

The Ladies Aid Society of the First M. E. church will have a parcel post sale at the church at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, July 12. The public is cordially invited.

C. E. COMMENDS HARDING FOR PROHI STAND

Convention Praises President For Enforcement of Volstead Act, Pledge Support to Candidates With Similar Views

SHOW HOW PROHIBITION HAS VINDICATED SELF

By Associated Press.

DES MOINES, July 7.—Resolutions were introduced at tonight's session of the 29th International Christian Endeavor convention commending President Harding for his support of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act and pledging support to candidates for public offices and to the party that make unequivocal commitments to their enforcement.

The resolution was introduced at the instance of the executive committee of the United Society of Christian Endeavor under whose auspices the convention is being held.

The text of the statement follows:

"Prohibition has vindicated itself. In spite of great caps, its being effects are now apparent in the steadily declining death rate as revealed in the bulletins of life-insurance companies in the 74 per cent decrease in drink cases with their attendant problems coming to charity organizations, and in the growing moral tone of our community life.

"The great cities on our far-reaching coast lines and wide extending international boundaries, present serious prohibition sentiment of the nation. difficulties in law-enforcement and can not now be expected to reflect the For some time to come they will continue to deceive themselves and our visitors from other lands, who would rejoice in the repudiation of national prohibition.

"Even these vast and cosmopolitan communities record unmistakable benefits accruing from the closing of saloons and bars, benefits that will increase with the strengthening of the spirit and agencies of law-enforcement.

"For the bootlegger, we have only slightly less condemnation than for his patron. The latter, from the standpoint of individual morality, is essentially the worse, while in citizenship he is a greater menace. Striking at one law, he slashes all. He gives heart to every evil doer, and by the measure of his influence weakens the protecting wall that surrounds his life, his liberty and his temporal goods.

"In law-enforcement the supreme issue of the hour joins. The forces of nullification are active and determined. They have united powerful interests at home and abroad to embarrass public officials to hamper the morale of conscientious enforcing agents and to discourage public sentiment. They have found a spokesman in the governor of a great state.

We declare here that state right consciousness is greater than state rights, and that no state has rights which prohibition does not strengthen. We stand for liberty under law. We pledge ourselves anew to the Constitution of the United States. We commend the President for his repeated statements in support of the Eighteenth amendment of the Volstead Act.

"Speaking for four million enrolled young people, citizens and citizens-to-be, we further declare that no candidate for public office and that no politicians, failing to make such unequivocal comment, has the right to expect or will receive our support and votes.

"We believe that total abstinence is the only consistent attitude for a Christian and that the agitation for a modification of the Volstead Act to legalize light wines and beers is a subterfuge and blind; those who advocate it now were but a short time since the stalwart defense of the open saloon and the liquor traffic. It is a dishonest issue.

"As the ultimate solution of the liquor problem for this nation was national prohibition, for which Christian Endeavor declared in 1911 with its militant slogan, 'A Saloonless Nation by 1920,' so the ultimate solution of the problem for all nations is world-wide prohibition. We have reaffirm our declaration of 1919, for "A Saloonless World," and pledge the full strength of our movement to the achievement of this high goal."

NOURISHING SOUP

If you wish to make your soup more nourishing serve grated cheese with it. Italian soup is always so accompanied.

NET WINDOW CURTAINS

If you want your net window curtains to hang straight dry them by putting them back on the poles wet. They will fall in the desired graceful folds.

OMELET

A spoonful of chopped meat added to the omelet improves its flavor.
